Rejoice and Be Glad in Your Ministry Calling

The stone the builders rejected has become the cornerstone; the Lord has done this, and it is marvelous in our eyes. The Lord has done it this very day; let us rejoice today and be glad. (Psalm 118:22-24)

"This 'telephone' has too many shortcomings to be seriously considered as a means of communication. The device is inherently of no value to us." So stated a Western Union internal memo dated 1876. The foresight of that memo's author was in need of an optometrist! Such is human wisdom. It often doesn't know a good thing or the next big thing when it appears on the stage.

When Jesus appeared on the scene in Judea and Galilee, the spiritual experts and authorities were plagued with blurred vision. Though Jesus matched up with everything the Scriptures said the Messiah would be, they wrote him off as an imposter. They discarded him as inherently of no value. Fast forward 20 centuries and many still see Jesus as overrated scrap on history's cutting room floor. "Who better than we to set moral standards for our times. We've progressed beyond the outdated codes of the past." "Whatever needs mending between us and God, we can handle it ourselves." The blindness of human nature remains along with the associated hubris and despair. This is the context in which we carry out ministry.

By the grace of God alone, the Spirit through the gospel has restored our sight. We don't see Jesus as the next big thing. He is the only thing—the chief cornerstone. Only he has lived in righteousness for me. Only he has suffered the curse of my sin for me. Only he has laid down his life and by his own power taken it back again. God's grace has opened our eyes to see his marvelous, vicarious work for us. With the psalmist, we rejoice and live in gladness because of what his empty tomb means for us personally. As called servants of the Word, we joyfully embrace our calling to administer Christ's life-giving, sight-restoring gospel. That joy remains whether we are well or poorly received by our hearers.

The sine qua non of a satisfying and fulfilling ministry is not the amount of visible fruit from our labors or the honor we receive from those we serve. It is the privilege of serving him who served us. That's the inherent value of our ministries. Seeing the fruits of the gospel produced in the lives of our hearers along with any love and honor we receive as Christ's representatives is icing on the cake.

Your servant in Christ,

Pastor Dennis Klatt

Current MN District Teacher/Staff Minister Vacancies

Principal: 8

LES Teacher: 11

ECE Teachers: 5

Staff Ministers: 1

There are presently 240 teacher vacancies synod wide.

WELS CONFERENCE OF PRESIDENTS REPORT

The Conference of Presidents (COP) met for its spring meeting April. 7–9 2025.

President Schroeder's report included these items:

- The COP continues develop sample governance examples for congregations developing congregational constitutions and bylaws. Current samples are available on the welsmn.org website under the resources tab.
- The COP reviewed the procedures it will follow as it carries out teaching assignments at Martin Luther College, New Ulm, Minn., in May, including clarifying that preseminary graduates (who do not continue at Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary) are not automatically certified for non-pastoral ministry. Those called to other types of service (such as teaching) will normally need to enroll in the synod's teacher certification program.
- The COP continues to review the calling process, especially in view of the challenges of pastor and teacher shortages.
- The Assignment Committee will continue to consider emergency teaching calls after the assignments are made in May.
- The COP was asked to reconsider a proposal to change the synod convention from a biennial to a triennial schedule. The 12 districts heard this proposal last summer, and the majority of districts were not in favor of the change. In view of that, the COP declined to reconsider the proposal at this time, but it did decide that additional rationale could be placed before the district conventions in 2026.
- The COP reviewed the new long-range strategic plan that will be presented to the synod convention in July.
- As of the April meeting of the COP, there were 156 pastoral vacancies in the synod, with 149 of those being parish pastor positions. The 2025 seminary graduating class will provide candidates numbering in the mid-20s, meaning that the pastoral vacancy situation will improve only slightly in the near term. Larger classes at the seminary in the coming years, however, will provide some relief in the future. In the meantime, the COP asks every WELS congregation and member to encourage young men to consider training for the pastoral ministry.

- A similar high vacancy rate is taking place in teacher positions. WELS school enrollments have increased significantly in the last two years—a real blessing—but that has caused a need for more teachers than are currently available. It's estimated that even after teacher candidates are assigned at Martin Luther College in May, there will still be approximately 100-120 vacancies in teaching positions. The Commission on Lutheran Schools has been working with congregations to find ways to fill the vacancies. At the same time, Martin Luther College has been redoubling its efforts to recruit both traditional and non-traditional teacher candidates. It will also be exploring other ideas to provide more teacher candidates. As in the case of pastors, those in the best position to recruit and encourage young people for the teaching ministry are congregational members, called workers, parents, and grandparents.

Minnesota District Legislation Committee

Report to the MN District – April 2024

Proposed Budget Cuts to Impact Nonpublic School

In January Governor Walz released his proposed budget for fiscal year 2026-2027. It included eliminating funding for Nonpublic Schools in the following areas: Nonpublic Pupil Aid and Transportation. Our WELS schools utilize both of these critical funding sources, and their removal would impact their ability to provide essential services to our students.

There are three basic categories of nonpublic pupil aid supporting the following services:

- Textbooks, individualized instruction materials, and standardized tests;
- Health services; and
- Guidance and counseling services.

Regarding transportation the proposal eliminates aid and includes the elimination of school districts being required to provide transportation of nonpublic students to their nonpublic school buildings.

If you haven't already done so, be sure to contact your legislators and express your views on these issues.

More Licensure Issues

The Minnesota Professional Educator Licensing and Standards Board (PELSB) announced it intends to establish a new Ethnic Studies teaching license. This license would require teachers to “analyze social and human relationships with the natural world through indigenous, pre-colonial, decolonial, and post-colonial lenses.” PELSB states that its separate teaching license for Ethnic Studies is needed to address a 2023 Minnesota law that requires Ethnic Studies in schools. Minnesota high schools must offer an Ethnic Studies course starting in the 2026-2027 school year, and elementary and middle schools must offer Ethnic Studies instruction by the 2027-2028 school year.

Issues Before the Missouri Legislature

Bills currently being considered in the Missouri legislature include:

House Bill 75 which would establish the “Missouri Religious Freedom Protection Act.”

House Bill 286 which would allow the reporting of a privileged communication regarding child abuse and neglect that is made to a minister or clergyperson.

House Bill 1194 which would establish the “Praise Act,” prohibiting the closure of places of worship during an emergency.

Respectfully submitted,

Martin Bentz, Chairman

One by One

This Bible study is based on Pastor David Rosenau's keynote presentation at the WELS National Conference on Lutheran Leadership in January of 2020. Using powerful personal stories and drawing from his wealth of experience both as a detective and a parish pastor, Pastor Rosenau helps Christians understand why it is so important to see every soul as a treasure and why we want to be willing to spend the time and effort necessary to share the gospel with each one.

One by One is available at <https://welscongregationservices.net>

Let's Go!

This Bible study provides online, video-based personal witness training. It teaches a simple, three-part approach that any Christian can put into practice. 1) Love the unchurched people God has brought into your life. 2) Listen carefully to their thoughts, beliefs, concerns, etc. 3) Lead them to the gospel. Let's Go can be used by both large and small group Bible studies as well as by individual Christians.

Let's Go is available at <https://welscongregationservices.net>

In Season and Out of Season

This Bible study, based on the Apostle Paul's evangelism experiences in the city of Philippi, seeks to encourage and equip God's people to share the gospel in any and every situation. The three-lesson, video-based bible study can be used in large or small group settings.

In Season and Out of Season is available at www.welscongregationservices.net.

Outreach Newsletters

The Commission on Evangelism annually offers Outreach Newsletters to WELS congregations. The newsletters each consist of a devotional article targeted at congregations' prospects. There are twelve newsletters offered each year.

The newsletters can be downloaded, free of charge, at www.welscongregationservices.net.

Come and See

Come and See will be a program congregations can use to encourage and equip members to invite unchurched people in their lives to connect to their congregation and to Christ using invitational evangelism. The COE plans to release the program in early 2026.

Minnesota District Schools Coordinator Report

WELS MN District Spring Conference

Submitted by: Dave Gartner

Dear brothers in Christ,

It has been a busy and productive year serving as the Minnesota District Schools Coordinator. I thank God for the many opportunities he has provided to serve our schools and congregations as we work together to carry out gospel ministry through Christian education.

Over the past few months, I have made several visits to schools in our district that are currently experiencing transitions due to vacancies in leadership—either lacking a principal, a pastor, or in some cases, both. These visits have allowed me to listen, offer guidance, and assist congregations as they prayerfully consider their next steps forward. The resilience and dedication of our local faculty and congregations in these situations are a testament to God's ongoing work among us.

Additionally, I've spent time working with schools facing teacher-related challenges, including staffing, performance concerns, and communication issues. These are never easy situations, but I am encouraged by the willingness of our leaders and teachers to seek biblical, constructive solutions rooted in love, professionalism, and mutual support. Please continue to pray for wisdom and strength for all involved.

Currently, I've been actively engaged with MINNDEPENDENT in response to the recent budget proposal made by Governor Walz. The proposed changes have significant implications for nonpublic education in Minnesota. Through this partnership, we have now successfully mobilized all WELS schools in the state to write to their legislators and Governor Walz, advocating for fair funding practices. It's heartening to see our school leaders take this civic responsibility seriously and speak up for our students and families.

In preparation for MLC Assignment Day, I've been collaborating closely with District President Klatt. We are working to ensure that our district's staffing needs are clearly communicated and that we are ready to welcome new teachers and staff ministers who will be assigned to serve in our Minnesota District schools and congregations. Assignment Day is always a joyful occasion, and we thank God for the workers he is raising up for service.

Looking ahead to the summer, I am working to ensure that we have our full complement of ten delegates prepared and registered for the WELS Synod Convention at MLC. The involvement of our district delegates is critical for shaping the direction of our synod, and I am grateful for their willingness to serve.

Finally, as we move through April and May, we are coordinating visits from the WELS Commission on Lutheran Schools to various schools across our district. These visits provide valuable feedback and encouragement for the Commission on Lutheran Schools as well as a willing person to listen to our principals and early childhood directors and teachers joys and challenges.

Thank you for your prayers, support, and partnership in this ministry. May God continue to bless our efforts to serve him and his lambs through our Lutheran schools.

In Christ's service,

Dave Gartner

WINTER 2025

WISCONSIN LUTHERAN SEMINARY SPOTLIGHT

SECOND SEMESTER ENROLLMENT

Enrollment at the seminary is the highest it has been in fifteen years. The second semester began with 47 first-year students, 36 in their second year, 39 serving as vicars, and 25 seniors. Counting one student who is serving in an emergency call and another who was granted a one-year leave of absence, seminary enrollment stands at 149. In addition, a student from our sister church in Germany is spending the year on campus. Early estimates suggest that the incoming class in fall 2025 will be larger than the graduating class.

FACULTY RETIREMENTS

Professor John Schuetze, who served at the seminary for 28 years, retired at the end of December 2024. During his time on the faculty, he taught courses in systematic theology, pastoral theology, and counseling, while also serving as campus counselor and registrar, among other duties. He is living in Tennessee and will continue to teach online courses in the STM program.

Professor Bill Tackmier will retire at the end of June after 15 years of service on the seminary campus. He has taught courses in Old Testament and homiletics and is currently serving as academic dean. He and his wife, Dorcas, who worked in the seminary library, will be living in South Bend, Indiana, in retirement. Professor Tackmier will teach some face-to-face courses in the STM program.

CALL ACCEPTED

Mr. Sean Young, who has served as the WELS Director of Mission Operations since May 2012, has accepted the Lord's call to serve as the director of mission advancement. He will take up that work in the spring. He takes over the work from Mr. Kevin Keller, who was hired in 2005 to establish the mission advancement office. The Lord has graciously poured out great blessings on Mr. Keller's work over the last 20 years.

WINTERIM

During early January, Winterim—the two-week session between semesters—gives students who choose to stay on campus an opportunity to study in areas not normally part of the seminary curriculum. This year 36 students participated in learning opportunities that took them off campus, whether to participate in outreach trips in Virginia, Texas, and Florida, or to walk in the footsteps of Paul in a trip to Greece and Italy.

Grow in Grace offered four continuing education courses during the first week of Winterim, with 24 pastors attending, more than any year in recent memory. Those Winterim courses are open to all WELS/ELS pastors. Next year's dates are January 5–9.

MISSION AND MINISTRY

The seminary held its 2025 Mission and Ministry seminar February 4–6. This annual three-day event provides students an opportunity to hear from a wide range of people in a variety of ministry settings. It's another chance for them to see the real-world gospel work for which their coursework is preparing them.

Attendees heard updates and stories from WELS World Missions, Home Missions, and Congregational Services under the theme of "God's Power, Our Mission." Each day of Mission and Ministry offered a keynote speaker, highlights from World Missions, Home Missions, and Congregational Services, and breakout sessions. Attendees also had the opportunity to explore displays by various synodical boards and commissions.

SATELLITES

This is the year for continuing education events for pastors in the districts. We call them satellites.

Satellites provide a unique opportunity for pastors to study together with a seminary professor or an adjunct instructor. Pastors wanting to take a course for credit will do some pre-course work, attend about 12 hours of class, and complete post-course assignments within a month. Pastors not taking the course for credit (audit) will do some pre-course work and participate in the classes. In previous years about one-third of the pastors have taken courses for credit and two-thirds have audited. If pastors have not taken a course for credit recently, we would encourage them to give it a try. The post-course assignments provide growth for the pastor and are often immediately practical for parish ministry.

The instructors of satellite courses are interested in the spiritual and professional growth of the pastors who take their courses. All courses are gospel-centered and mission-focused, with an emphasis on student learning. At the satellite events, time in class and time outside of class provide rich opportunity for brothers in faith and ministry to support and encourage each other and to enjoy the blessings of fellowship.

Most of the 12 districts are hosting at least one satellite course in 2025. Pastors are encouraged to enroll in a course for credit or audit. Pastors are welcome to attend any course in any district. This is especially helpful for pastors who are pursuing their STM degree or who want to take a specific course that pertains to their ministry.

The dates and places for nine 2025 satellite events have been set.

- Feb 4 – 6 in Pacific Northwest district in Seattle, WA
- April 29 – May 1 in Minnesota district in Rochester, MN
- May 28 – 30 in Dakota/Montana district in Sioux Falls, SD
- June 2 – 6 in Arizona/California district in Las Vegas, NV
- June 9 – 11 in North Atlantic district in Adamstown, MD
- June 9 – 12 in Pacific Northwest district in Tacoma, WA
- June 9 – 11 in Western Wisconsin district in Watertown, WI
- Oct 27 – 28 in South Central district in Rockwall, TX
- Oct 30 – 31 in Northern Wisconsin district in Appleton, WI

The South Atlantic District and the Michigan District are also planning continuing education events in their districts in 2025, with dates and places still pending at this writing.

For information about these courses and events, contact us at growingrace@wls.edu.

Visit our website for the dates and times of our graduation week events on campus.

PASTORAL STUDIES INSTITUTE

a partnership of Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary and WELS Joint Missions

"After the fall, theologians are not born, but are made, namely taught by God through the written Word."

~ John A. Quenstedt

How does God make a pastor? How does the seminary's Pastoral Studies Institute (PSI) serve in making a pastor from a people group that is not part of our historical WELS community?

It begins with a prayer of thanks for WELS members who support the seminary and PSI's important work. It is followed with a prayer for wisdom and insight that the PSI Team and its many pastor-instructors would be able to communicate the truths of God's Word across cultures and language.

In North America, it begins with a pastor who has members of another people group in his congregation and the pastor notices that one of the men has the character and gifts for pastoral ministry. That local pastor is willing to serve as a PSI instructor to his member and mentor him in his PSI studies. Pastoral (and parental) encouragement of men for pastoral ministry is as important today as it was in the Apostle Paul's day when he mentored young pastors Timothy and Titus.

Outside of North America, the making of a pastor continues with a PSI Team of three WLS professors willing to travel to other countries to teach classes in person. It can also mean altering their schedules to provide instruction via video to a classroom of men, through an interpreter, halfway around the world, during hours when their families are asleep. Wherever a PSI student is located, there are no tuition costs to the student or his congregation, thanks to the support of God's people.

Whether a man is of traditional age attending WLS, or he is a PSI student from a people-group different than ours, the tool that sculpts and forms, shapes and fashions a confessional Lutheran pastor is the same tool that God has always used to communicate truth, create life, and equip his people to serve—his powerful Word.

"MLC RECOGNIZED BY WALL STREET JOURNAL AS SHREWDEST COLLEGE IN THE COUNTRY!"

by Rich Gurgel, MLC President

No, that headline isn't real. Yes, in 2024 the Wall Street Journal listed MLC as the #1 college/university in the country for career preparation. But there's no shrewdness listing.

Would we strive to top that list if it did exist? Jesus does urge us in that direction.

In a shocking turn in one of Jesus' parables, a dishonest steward receives commendation from his defrauded master "because he had acted shrewdly" (Lk 16:8). Neither the master (nor Jesus) commends dishonesty. The master commends his servant's focused use of temporary resources to reach his goal of being welcomed into debtors' homes (Lk 16:4).

Then comes a second shocker. Jesus looks each of us in the eye and speaks these words: "For the people of this world are more shrewd in dealing with their own kind than are the people of the light. I tell you, use worldly wealth to gain friend for yourselves so that when it is gone you will be welcomed into eternal dwellings" (Lk 16:8-9).

There it is! Jesus longs for us "people of the light" to prove ourselves as shrewd as those "people of this world." And we get to do that without frantic fear and for a greater purpose. We don't act in fear as if only our shrewdness ensures that our needs are met. That's how pagans operate (Mt 6:32). Our Father gives us everything we need since he's already given us Jesus (Ro 8:32). And we act shrewdly with a far greater purpose. The world pursues shrewdness to enhance temporal bottom lines. We pursue shrewdness with "worldly wealth" to "gain friends" who in thanks to God will be a heavenly welcoming team!

Now, back to that imagined headline. This is a very challenging time for higher education in our country. About one college a week closes its doors. In that setting, MLC seeks, under God's blessing, to be A-list shrewd in handling "worldly wealth." We aren't fearful that our doors will close—God provides us with synodical support and many generous individual donors. Instead, we seek top-level shrewdness to help us raise up a new generation of messengers who will be gaining friends for heaven!

That's why, in 2024, in partnership with synod leaders, we engaged experienced higher ed consultants to analyze where we can be shrewder in how we operate as a college. Now, in 2025, we are implementing those recommendations, which will lead to stronger fiscal stability and operational efficiency—not primarily for a better bottom line, but for a mission that matters forever.

So, pray for God's blessings as MLC embarks on an aggressive effort to be "the shrewdest college in the country." The Wall Street Journal may never notice. Heaven's welcome party will.

COMPETENCY-BASED EDUCATION CONTINUES TO MOVE FORWARD

MLC continues to move forward with the Competency-Based Education initiative to meet the need for more teachers in our elementary schools. The data from our first term of CBTE (Competency-Based Theology Education) Minor affirms that the coursework has had a powerful impact on the scriptural and doctrinal foundations of the learners in the program.

Feedback from stakeholders, including the learners, has been instrumental in shaping our admissions, enrollment, and financial processes to support individuals in this new modality. We are also preparing to launch two new cohorts in January, one online with virtual meetings and one online with in-person meetings in Milwaukee.

We are also excited to share that our Alternative Pathway to Professional Licensure Eligibility (APPLE) - Elementary Education is in the final stages of our accreditor's approval process. Once approved, MLC will offer courses beyond the CBTE Minor to support returning adult learners who are studying to serve as teachers at their local Lutheran schools.

If you have questions about or interest in either program, please contact Dr. Nichole LaGrow, director of Nontraditional Education, at lagrowna@mlc-wels.edu / 507.354.8221.

EXCITING NEWS FOR OUR EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATORS!

Our online Associate of Science (AS) in Early Childhood Education (ECE) degree for preschool teachers has been approved by our accrediting agency! This program is intended for adult learners, and we are enrolling them right now!

This 67.5-credit AS-ECE degree program is the final tier in our 4-Tier "Support at Every Step" program for early childhood educators. It qualifies individuals to receive a divine call to WELS early childhood ministries, though it does not provide licensure for public school teachers.

The course of study includes general education courses, early childhood professional courses, and ministry certification (theology) courses. All professional and theology courses are available online through MLC, and we can also help you earn your required general education credits.

As early childhood ministries continue to grow in churches across the country, they need more teachers—teachers who understand the fundamentals of early childhood education and who are well grounded in biblical theology. Our AS-ECE can prepare these teachers—yet another way Martin Luther College is Pursuing Excellence Under the Cross as we meet the ministry needs of the WELS.

Spring 2025

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT, REV. MARK LUETZOW

A shepherd's voice is both necessary and comforting. To warn of impending evil the shepherd beckons his sheep back to him. To lead them to pastures where green grass grows the shepherd invites his sheep to come and eat. To guide them to safety in the evenings, the shepherd calls each sheep by name and gathers them together in the shelter.

It's no wonder that the Church has found the inspired illustration of Jesus as our Good Shepherd a worthy scene for artistic expressions of Jesus' care. Each piece is a reminder of the gospel truth that Jesus is the good shepherd who lays down his life for the sheep.

One of the reasons that many of our students are considering entering the ministry is because they have been faithfully shepherded throughout their lives by teachers and pastors who have echoed the voice of our Good Shepherd. Your Christlike love in shepherding the people that you serve inspires their desire to bring the same comforting voice to others.

So, on behalf of all of us at MLS, Thank You. Thank you for your faithful shepherding of God's people. Thank you for your sacrificing service to God's sheep. Thank you for leading his lambs into his Word and feeding them in the pastures of gospel goodness. And, thank you for partnering with us in encouraging another generation of sheep who have the gifts and desire to serve as under shepherds of the Good Shepherd.

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR DISTRICT CHAMPIONS!

CHILDREN'S THEATER...ON THE ROAD AGAIN

Expecting 25 high schoolers to hop on a bus at 6:00 AM is a tall ask for most, but after napping for an hour or two, they might surprise you with their enthusiasm. This is the third year in a row that the MLS Children's Theater has taken their show "on the road" to Zion Lutheran School in Monroe, MI. The students have become pros at packing and unpacking, loading and unloading. More importantly, they've become pros at making 100+ kids smile with their energy onstage and friendliness offstage. From the stage to the playground, the trip to Monroe is as unforgettable as it is tiring.

2025 PROJECT TITUS LOCATIONS

Project Titus is a ministry program where students take part in summer mission trips to serve churches and communities nationwide. Since 1981, MLS students have helped with events like soccer camps, worship services, and community outreach through canvassing and exploration.

MLS ADMISSIONS CORNER

"Fifty percent" is a figure that gets tossed around often in our Admissions meetings—it is our standing goal that 50% or more of our graduates would matriculate to MLC to pursue called worker ministry. As much as we want measurable goals, however, we know that we can't force a number on our students and their future plans. But when that number does turn up on our stats, we need to celebrate it! Rejoice with us that this year, as plans currently stand, 50% of our senior class is planning to attend MLC in the fall. Please also rejoice with the other 50% of graduates that will take their MLS experiences and their Christ-centered education into other vocations and fields of labor, as they also work in the harvest field as faithful laypeople.

As the academic year comes to a close, the Admissions department bids farewell to Instructor Mark Burger, who served as Admissions Counselor this year on an emergency basis. We are grateful for his work, his energy, and his dominance in intramural basketball! God's blessings, Mark, as you head back to WLS to finish your pastoral training. We look forward to seeing your name on an upcoming assignment list!

SPRING UPDATE

FROM MISSION ADVANCEMENT

A STUDENT PERSPECTIVE

by Caleb Zahn

I thought I was always going to come to Luther Prep. However, as my 8th grade year went on, I became torn between Prep or public high school at home in South Carolina. God provided me with so many blessings and opportunities in public school that I am so thankful for, amazing experiences in academics, athletics, and the fine arts on the local and state level, incredible friendships and supportive teachers. I cherished my experiences and I didn't know if that would exist at Prep. I knew that a Christ-centered education would be a HUGE blessing, but I didn't really know how much.

Luther Prep is incredible. My freshman year has been one of the best years of my life. This place, built and centered on God's Word and promises, creates such a unique environment that supports everyone here and cultivates lifelong friendships and pushes you to try everything. The professors, directors, coaches, and tutors here do a great job of that. They encourage us to grow and develop our God given gifts and abilities.

That has been the best thing for me: being able to try everything. I can go to football, and then rehearse to play on Sunday for a church service. I can practice with Brass Choir on a weeknight. I can go from wrestling to musical practice. I am free to be involved in as much as I want to be, without having to worry about the schedules colliding.

I am thankful to God for Prep, and it has only been two-thirds of my freshman year. I can't wait to keep doing all the things that Prep has to offer!

Caleb Zahn is a freshman from Myrtle Beach, South Carolina and participates in football, wrestling, track and field, chorus, band, Brass Choir, chapel band and musical.

LIVES PREPARED

Thanks to the generosity of the over 400 attendees and volunteers plus 130 viewers joining on livestream, over $173,000 was raised for Magnify, Luther Prep's music center campaign at Lives Prepared on March 29.

This year's event featured the talents of our student body through a student art gallery and program, Prep on Stage!

SUMMER CAMPS

Luther Prep offers a variety of summer overnight and day camps for students entering grades K-9.

While most of the camps focus on athletics, Phoenix Adventure Camp is a co-ed 4 day, 3 night camp that gives the full Luther Prep experience! Campers will enjoy chapels and Bible studies, music and drama sessions, art and classroom sessions, with lots of fun games throughout the camp. Sleeping in the dorms, eating in the cafeteria, and spending time with new and old friends will cap off the adventure of being an LPS Phoenix.
